Rev. Sam Jones' Meeting.

Durham Recorder. Durham is again experiencing one of the greatest revivals of religion within the history of the State. The average attendance at the meetings is upwards attendance at the meetings is upwards of 4,500. People are here from every section of Central Carolina; as far West as Charlotte, and east as Newbern, Many are here from Virginia. The meeting is held in Parrish's warehouse, which has been comfortably arranged with seats. Mr. Jones is assisted by Rev. Mr. Culpepper, of Georgia. Prof. Excell is also with him to furnish the music. Business has given away to the preach-

Business has given away to the preaching, and nearly everybody goes to the three services daily. One of the happiest persons we have seen during the meeting was Col. W. T. Blackwell. Hundreds have been converted. The interest in the neeting becomes more intensified as it

Wilmington Messenger: There is a controversy just now over the relative cotton consumption by the mills of Georgia and South Carolina. The last showing is in favor of Georgia, although South Carolina is gaining upon its friendly rival and is not tar behind. Such rivalries are not objectionable. It is pleasant to know that both States are forging away in the important work of bringing the mills to the cotton and o converting into goods the raw material grown in the two States. North Caro-lina has more mills than either of these. but fewer booms, and consequently less cotton is consumed. We are gratified that the success of the Wilmington factory is such as to encourage the owners to en-large it at an early day. Wilmington ought certainly to have more factories Charlotte has four large and flourishing

North State: The knitting factory commenced work regularly last Monday, J. K. Hall, superintendent, says he will require about 75 hands—chiefly females —and that he hopes to procure them here. Of course a few experts will have to be brought from a distance until the local force is learned. The operatives will be white. The factory work will for the present be confined exclusively to cotton shirts and drawers, and orders for goods are already on file.
